Reading Successes Delivered

Parent Guide

This summer reading program is paid for by your school and managed by Kids Read Now.

Your child's school is partnering with Kids Read Now (KRN) to mail FREE books to your child over the summer. Books they can keep forever!

Over the summer, most children forget many of their reading skills, but practicing every day over the summer keeps their brains ready for the new school year. Earlier this spring, your child and their teacher probably chose books your child wants to read this summer. Or, you may have chosen the books online at home.

Look inside to see how the program works!

Reading is one of the most important skills your child will EVER learn.

Your child's school and KRN will help, and you can, too!

1. Read with them for 15 minutes a day.
2. Discuss a Discovery Sheet activity.
3. Report the Book Code and get the next FREE book!
4. Visit KidsReadNow.org/Parents for additional resources.

Thank you for helping your child become a reading champion!

Discuss

After your child has read a book, complete the four Discovery Sheet reading activities inside the front cover together.

These activities:

- Encourage your child to think or talk about what he or she has read.
- Help build comprehension and relate something they have read to their own lives, or the lives of others.

Don't be afraid of these questions. There are no right or wrong answers!

Junie B. Jones: First Grader (at last!)

1. Junie B. was going into first grade. That made her nervous. When have you been nervous? Write about it in a story. Share it with a parent.
2. May is the class tattletale. Think of another story. Who else is a tattletale? Use a Venn diagram. How is that character like May? How are they different? Share your diagram with a parent.
3. Junie B. did not want to wear glasses. She was afraid she would be laughed at. Why is it important not to laugh at people? What did Herb do to help? Talk about it with a parent.
4. Pretend you are Herb. Write Herb's journal entry after show and tell. Share your writing with a parent.
